CHAPTER 1 INTRODUCTION TO RESIDENTIAL APARTMENT (RA) ZONES

100 GENERAL PROVISIONS

100.1 The Residential Apartment (RA) zones permit urban residential development and compatible institutional and semi-public buildings.

100.2 The RA zones are designed to be mapped in areas identified as moderate- or high-density residential areas suitable for multiple dwelling unit development and supporting uses.

100.3 In addition to the purpose statements of individual chapters, the provisions of the RA zones are intended to:

(a) Provide for the orderly development and use of land and structures in areas characterized by predominantly moderate- to high-density residential uses;

(b) Permit flexibility by allowing all types of residential development;

(c) Promote stable residential areas while permitting a variety of types of urban residential neighborhoods;

(d) Promote a walkable living environment;

(e) Allow limited non-residential uses that are compatible with adjoining residential uses;

(f) Encourage compatibility between the location of new buildings or construction and the existing neighborhood; and

(g) Ensure that buildings and developments around fixed rail stations, transit hubs, and streetcar lines are oriented to support active use of public transportation and safety of public spaces.

101 DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

101.1 The bulk of structures in the RA zones shall be controlled through the combined requirements of the general development standards of this subtitle, the zone-specific development standards of this subtitle, and the requirements and standards of Subtitle C.

101.2 The development standards are intended to:
(a) Control the bulk or volume of structures, including height, floor area ratio (FAR), and lot occupancy;

(b) Control the location of building bulk in relation to adjacent lots and streets, by regulating rear yards, side yards, and the relationship of buildings to street lot lines;

(c) Regulate the mixture of uses; and

(d) Promote the environmental performance of development.

101.3 Development standards may be varied or waived by the Board of Zoning Adjustment as a variance or, when permitted in this title, as a special exception. Additional zone specific special exception criterion, if applicable, shall be considered by the Board and are referenced in this subtitle.

101.4 For those zones with geographic identification, the boundaries are cited in Subtitle W and identified on the official Zoning Map. When there is a conflict between the official Zoning Map and the boundaries described in Subtitle W, the Office of Zoning shall determine the correct boundaries through a zoning certification.

101.5 In addition to the development standards set forth in this subtitle, additional general regulations relevant to this subtitle can be found in Subtitle C.

Land area used to support this floor area ratio of multiple dwelling unit buildings may also be used for common spaces.

201.4 Lot area and lot width for residential uses permitted as a special exception shall be as prescribed by the Board of Zoning Adjustment.
